A Touch of Smartness

Is added to a woman's appearance by natty footwear. All sorts of Shoes are being offered at this season, but they vary as much in fit and durability as they do in style.

A Shoe should be as scientifically made as a gown. That is the secret of the comfortable fit of all "Patrician Shoes" for women.

This season's examples are made with our usual careful attention to every little detail. The styles are the newest, the leathers the finest, and you are assured of a correct fit in a Shoe full of comfort and service.

In short, they add that deliciously feminine touch so much admired in well-groomed women.

BIG REUNION IN FLOYD.

Large Crowd, Including Many Veterans, Enjoys the Celebration.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

FLOYD, VA., September 21.—The reunion, held on Saturday last in the grove at Salem Church, was a notable occasion, long to be remembered by the crowd of some 1,500 or 2,000 people, as well as the Confederate veterans who took part in it. The generous hospitality of the citizens of the east end of the county was unbounded.

The committee of arrangements, headed by J. W. Walton, M. H. Custer and J. L. Hale, with their able assistants, Noah Wilson, A. T. Sowder, J. M. Collins, H. L. Keaton, W. J. Kropff and others, left nothing undone to make the occasion a success, and, together with the efforts of the good ladies of the county, they made up for the rain, which failed to get during the war, but there was enough for each and all.

W. T. Sowers, who was master of ceremonies; G. W. Agnew, J. E. Burwell and Capt. W. H. Morgan, talked to the old soldiers before and after dinner.

The Amos Drum Corps, with the old Confederate drummer, Billy McGhee, of Montgomery county, added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

ROMANCE OF THE WAR.

Ohio Man to Wed Woman Who Helped to Save His Life at Gettysburg.

A pretty romance, having its inception on the Gettysburg battlefield during the Civil War, will have its culmination in a marriage next month during the G. A. R. encampment at Saratoga. The parties to the incident are Mrs. Rebecca L. Price, of Lancaster, Pa., and Major August Vignos, of Canton, Ohio. During the war Mrs. Price, who lived at Phoenixville, responded to Governor Curtin's call for nurses.

During the Gettysburg battle Mrs. Price cared for Major Vignos, whose arm had been blown off by a shell. After the wound had healed the nurse saw nothing of the soldier, but retained a photograph given her, he doing the same. Recently she learned of his address and wrote him. The gallant major promptly arranged a meeting with the woman whose nursing helped to save his life.

Mrs. Price is a member of the National Association of War Nurses and has been honored by it with election to some of its important offices.

Logical Conclusions About Feed.

You often hear a feeder remark that his horse is "off his feed," or that it is sick, and that he has been advised to boil his oats for a while.

This proves that a cooked feed is the most palatable, and, of course, the most digestible.

It is the only remedy in some cases that will cure a sick horse.

Now, what is good for a sick horse can't be bad for a well horse (provided it is not medicine).

"But we can't afford to feed cooked oats to all our stock," you will say.

No, but by feeding

MUELLER'S MOLASSES GRAINS

you can sometimes cure "dyspeptic" horses and keep the well ones well, as this feed is cooked (dried) brewer's grains and malt sprouts mixed with molasses a very nutritious, palatable and digestible combination.

It is almost twice as rich in digestible nutriment as raw grain, and being much cheaper, is therefore more economical.

Practical stockmen are awakening to these improvements in modern stock feeding, as evidenced by the enormous sale of this one product in this vicinity.

S. T. Beveridge & Co., of Richmond, Va., are the wholesale distributors for this Feed, and will furnish further particulars with sample and prices upon request.

It's School Time!

And These Are the Pianos for the Children.

The Pianos that have been built so well for generations that they have had the hearty endorsement of practically all the artists during the time, are the Pianos to select one from for the children.

When you make such a selection you are providing your children and family with an instrument that will help—not hinder their musical education.

The Steinway Piano has received the highest praise—and in addition to the Steinway we have a number of other makes of supreme merit.

Paderewski wrote:

"I must tell you that my joy in the grandeur, the power and the ideal beauty of the tone, and the perfection of touch and mechanism of the Steinway was unbounded." :::::
